April 17, 2008

Spring is here and it's that time of year for yard crafts and projects such as building wooden planter boxes. If you've been to our store lately, you probably noticed the glass greenhouse, made from used windows, and built by Dennis, our talented manager. So many people asked about the greenhouse, that Dennis wrote up instructions with photos showing how to build your own greenhouse out of used shower doors for under $150. You can access the instructions online at <http://www.heartwoodresources.org/Presentations/ShowerDoorGreenhouse.pdf>.

If you're planning floor tear outs, whether you want to keep your original floor or change it to hardwood flooring, we have hardwood maple and clear vertical grain fir flooring. Hurry while supplies last.

Our bowling lanes can be converted into work benches, solid maple kitchen islands, bar tops, kitchen counters, and even shuffle board tables. We carry lots of great craft materials, just waiting to be transformed into something fantastic!

Multi-paned windows have many uses. Not only can they be used to build a greenhouse, they make great glass railings around hot tubs or decorative fences.

Sinks make wonderful bird baths, and lighting fixtures can be converted into awesome yard art. The next time you stroll our isles, let your imagination run wild and you'll come up with plenty of creative ideas.

So stop by often, say hello, and check out our ever changing inventory. Don't forget to visit our packed art gallery. This new area of our store is really taking off. If you create art from recycled materials and would like to put it on consignment, stop by the store or give us a call for more info.
