

Heartwood ReSources Newsletter

June 19, 2008

Greetings Heartwood customers,

Our store has been busy and running strong since our reopening last fall. With the summer season upon us, our Decon crew has been busy with kitchen tear outs. As usual, the reclaimed items are selling faster than they are coming in, so you need to stop by often to check our ever-changing inventory.

Our staff does monitor our Customer Request List, and has made lots of phone calls to let clients know when those special items are in or arriving.

Art Gallery Update

Our customers have been purchasing lots of bird houses, wooden planters, and windmills. John Crawford, the artist that builds the windmills, has blessed us with additional stock.

Dennis, our Store Manager, and Ross Kelly, a store assistant, have built some creative drop-leaf and picnic tables. Be sure to stop by the Gallery to see the new arts and crafts inventory

Featured Items

We have wood maple and fir flooring available, and restaurant booths. Be sure to check out our great lumber prices.

New Staff

Please stop by and meet our new employee, Joe Smario. Joe will be a great asset to our company.

Deconstruction Services

Interested in deconstruction services? Give Heartwood a call and request a bid from our professional and courteous crew.

Donations

Please keep them coming. Don't forget to request a receipt for your tax deductible donations.

Kudos

I would like to thank all our devoted customers for recycling and using reclaimed material.

Our entire staff would like to extend a big thanks to DCJ for all their support and hard work. The DCJ crews help with a lot of big projects, moving endeavors, and Heartwood's day-to-day work.

Remember, if the cost of new materials for home rehab, repair, or other projects is holding you back, shop at Heartwood to help keep your project costs low.
